State Funding Initiatives Report

JANUARY 2017
ABOUT THE TRANSPORTATION INVESTMENT ADVOCACY CENTER (TIAC)

The Transportation Investment Advocacy Center™ (TIAC) is a first-of-its kind, dynamic education program and Internet-based information resource designed to help private citizens, legislators, organizations and businesses successfully grow transportation investment at the state and local levels through the legislative and ballot initiative processes.

The TIAC website, www.transportationinvestment.org, helps transportation investment advocates to mount successful campaigns. It exists to put in one place—and promote the sharing of—strategies... sample political and communications tools... legislative and ballot initiative language... and information on where to obtain professional campaign advice, research and help. To receive free, regular email updates from the TIAC, subscribe to the TranspoAdvocates Blog (www.transportationinvestment.org/blog).

TIAC staff produces regular research reports and analyses, hosts an annual workshop in Washington, D.C. (scheduled for July 12, 2017), and holds ongoing webinars for transportation investment advocates featuring case studies, best practices, and the latest in political and media strategies. State and local chamber of commerce executives, state legislators, state and local transportation officials, “Better Roads & Transportation” group members, industry and labor executives, and leaders of state and local chapters of national organizations who have an interest in transportation development programs are welcomed to participate.

The Center’s program of work is also guided by a Transportation Investment Advocates Council, a national network of business professionals and public officials who share a common interest in building support for transportation infrastructure investments in their state or local community—roads, bridges, public transit, pedestrian walkways and cycling paths, airports, waterways, ports and rail facilities.

TIAC is a project of the American Road and Transportation Builders Association’s “Transportation Makes America Work!”™ (TMAW) and supported through voluntary contributions and sponsorships.

To become a sponsor or to make a contribution, contact TIAC Manager Carolyn Kramer (ckramer@artba.org, or at 202-289-4434). EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Activity Status Year-to-Date

2017 State Transportation Funding Overview

- For the first month of 2016, TIAC has tracked 22 transportation funding bills being considered in nine states.
  - Eleven of those measures include an increase to the state gas tax in order to generate transportation revenue.
  - Five states are considering altering or adding a tax to alternative fuel vehicles.
  - Fourteen bills were introduced by Republican state legislators, and eight bills were introduced by Democratic state legislators.
- Several governors, including those in Colorado, Indiana and Tennessee, included transportation funding as a priority in their annual 'State of the State' addresses. Tennessee Gov. Bill Haslam (R) on Jan. 18 proposed a comprehensive transportation funding plan, including increases to the state's motor fuel taxes and vehicle registration fees.

2017 State Gas Tax Changes

- On Jan. 1, six states increased their gasoline tax.
  - Three states—Florida, Georgia and North Carolina—did so based on automatic adjustments based off of the variable-rate calculation of their state motor fuel taxes. All three states index their gas tax either wholly or in part to changes in the Consumer Price Index.
  - Two states—Michigan and Pennsylvania—raised their gas tax due to legislation from previous years.
  - Nebraska also raised its state gas tax a total of 1.5 cents-per-gallon due to a combination of 2015 legislation that raised its flat excise tax on gasoline gradually by 6 cents-per-gallon over four years, an additional variable-rate component of the state motor fuel tax that adjusts based on changes to the average wholesale price of motor fuel, and a third component that is adjusted as needed by the state legislature to ensure adequate funding for transportation projects.
- Additionally, two states—New York and West Virginia—decreased their state motor fuel tax rates, which are both determined based off of the average wholesale price of fuel.
- Two states—Vermont and Virginia—did not adjust their motor fuel taxes at the scheduled time due to low fuel prices. Both states have a floor in place that requires the variable-rate tax only be adjusted if the price of fuel is above the floor, or minimum price, in place.

The state gas tax increased 5.9 cents-per-gallon. The hike includes a new 2 percent assessment on the price of gasoline while slightly decreasing the per-gallon tax by 0.8 cents. It is estimated that by FY 2016 the tax could amount to a net hike of 6.5 cents. Diesel tax was also increased by 3 cents-per-gallon over two years. In addition to the approved $11 million bonds, it is anticipated that $32 million will be generated in FY 2016 for transportation infrastructure funding.

Gov. Maggie Hassan signed legislation to raise the New Hampshire gasoline and diesel fuel taxes by 4 cents-per-gallon. The tax will go into effect July 1 and had bipartisan political and business community support. The new gas tax will be 22 cents-per-gallon and the new diesel tax will be 23.6 cents-per-gallon. The tax will fund highway improvements for the next two years, and then half the tax will be earmarked to pay off $200 million in debt for Interstate 93 expansions. The tax will expire in 20 years after the debt is paid off.

Starting July 2015, the state gas tax will increase by 1-cent, a move that House Finance Committee Chairman Raymond Gallison says will produce an estimated $4.8 million a year. Subsequently the gas tax will be revisited every two years to reflect increases based on the rate of inflation.

Legislation to increase the state gas tax by 5 cents-per-gallon, create a 12 percent tax on the statewide average wholesale price of motor fuel to replace the flat gas tax in the future (once AWP reaches $2.45/gallon), and permit counties to seek voter approval for a 1/4-cent sales and use tax increase for local transportation projects. A fiscal note estimates the bill could generate $101,625,500 for the Transportation Fund in the first two years.

A bill to increase the state gas tax by 7 cents-per-gallon, raise vehicle registration fees, and institute a fee on electric and hybrid cars in order to generate new funding for the state's roads and bridges. Additionally, a 'surplus eliminator' included in House Bill 312a would apportion half of any General Fund surplus for transportation in the next two fiscal years.

Legislation to eliminate a 4 percent sales tax on motor fuel (half of which was not used for transportation), increase the flat excise tax on gasoline to 26 cents-per-gallon (from 7.5 cents-per-gallon, excluding the 4 percent sales tax), index the new state gas tax to the Consumer Price Index (ending July 2018) and the Corporate Average Fuel Economy, and increase several transportation-related taxes and fees.
